

WEB ACCESS ANY TIME

CERVIS is available to anyone, anytime, anywhere with just a web browser and an Internet connection, including most web-enabled cell phones and PDA browsers.

EASY TO LEARN & USE

CERVIS software is easy for both your organization and volunteers to use.

REDUCED RISK

CERVIS provides customers a professionally managed environment with multiple levels of security, redundancy and backups to ensure your data is safe and secure.

NO TOUCH UPGRADES

We regularly upgrade our software with new features and enhancements; the upgrades are free and require no action on the part of your organization to install them.

LOWER TOTAL COST OF OWNERSHIP

The overall cost of a hosted solution is actually lower due to the reduced costs of maintenance and internal IT support.

CERVIS Features & Benefits

CERVIS Technologies' Community Event Registration and Volunteer Information System, or CERVIS, is customized volunteer and event management software for your organization. CERVIS is 100% web-based, accessible from virtually anywhere and easy to use. This software suite equips your organization with the tools needed to effectively manage your volunteer community and to stay ahead of event planning and registration.

- Around the clock, online access to your CERVIS software from any computer with internet connectivity
- Create, manage, and customize unlimited events and unlimited volunteer profiles. Send unlimited E-mail messages and allow unlimited event registration
- Software seamlessly integrates with your organization's webpage
- Web-based software console available for organizations without a website
- CERVIS' advanced search function allows you to identify the right volunteers with the right skills and interests
- Design customized data fields to track important information that is specific to your volunteers and your organization.
- Advanced email capabilities allow you to target specific interest groups or volunteers serving at specific events
- Quickly generate and print nametags and event rosters/sign-in sheets for volunteer events
- Give different software access levels to staff and volunteers based on their responsibility level
- Responsive online support to ensure your questions are answered

PHYSICAL SECURITY

All of our equipment and data is located within a state-of-the-art datacenter in Texas.

Access to the data center is restricted by security guards, two factor authentication barriers, plus continually monitored closed-circuit motion sensitive cameras trained on all entrances and common areas 24x7x365.

NETWORK SECURITY

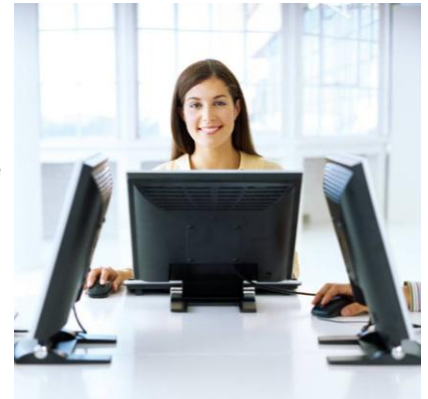

Our entire application platform is protected by firewalls and is safeguarded by intrusion prevention systems. CERVIS Technologies proactively monitors and analyzes all server system logs to identify security threats. Additionally, our data center utilizes systems for Distributed Denial of Service, and many other external threats.

SYSTEM REDUNDANCY

Our network infrastructure offers complete redundancy throughout. Our datacenters provide redundant electrical power, equipment cooling systems and Internet connectivity. The application database is stored on redundant drives configured across multiple servers and data is regularly backed up to a secure offsite location.

Software as a Service

CERVIS is on-demand Volunteer and Event Management Software, often referred to as Software as a Service. As a hosted solution, we provide the best service and prices to our customers by eliminating the burden of software and hardware maintenance as well as the costs of IT personnel to maintain your software. This model saves our customers substantially on capital expenditures – they do not have to devote resources to hardware on which to run their organization’s software or personnel to operate and maintain either the hardware or the software. Software as a Service allows your organization to focus your time and resources where they matter most.

100% Satisfaction Guarantee

Take CERVIS for a test drive and discover how you can take your volunteer-oriented organization to the next level!

If in your first 30 days you are not completely satisfied with our CERVIS Software, we will refund 100% of your monthly service fees.

Get Started Now

For more information about our software or to establish your organization’s CERVIS account, please contact us at:

Phone: 719.963.7699
Email: info@cervistech.com
Website: www.cervistech.com

